GNFAC,

I was out at Tele Meadows today, it was about as good as T-Meadows gets. Fast and light shin deep snow. It was snowing about 1/2 inch an hour all day, with more intensity in the morning and less in the afternoon. It warmed up throughout the day, 14F to 23F on the car thermometer. The top couple inches of snow was starting to display some storm slab tendencies by the end of the day, photo attached.

Thanks for everything y'all do!
