Skied Candyland near Shower Falls in Hyalite today. Got a decent look around and didn't see any natural avalanches. Got a ECTN12 @ 8k' east facing aspect at Candyland. Fractured at the new snow old snow interface about 40cm down from the surface. 115cm total snow depth. Very soft upper 40cm of snow with firmer snow underneath. Was snowing on and off while I was there and still snowing when I left
