

Skiers remotely triggered this avalanche from 100 feet away in the southern Madison Range near Quake Lake. They also got cracks to shoot 50-75 feet away. New snow fell onto a very weak snowpack over our southern mountains. This slide was 12" deep, 75 feet wide and ran 100 feet downhill. They wrote, "Called it a day and headed home after that." Photo: Anon

Advisory Region
Southern Madison

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Sat Dec 31, 2011

Southern Madison, 2011-12-30